SAVE on 3 Classics 139-Years Old!

These three Series of 1887 stamps from the American Bank Note Company are a fascinating set. Each was issued due to a color or design change. The 1¢ Franklin was redesigned, the 2¢ Washington switched from red brown to green, and the 3¢ changed to vermilion to avoid confusion. These stamps have small imperfections, as you'd expect of used stamps this old. Those imperfections don't detract from their beauty or collectibility, but save you even more. Fill those empty album spaces today.

SAVE 80% on Limited-Edition Fleetwood Proof Cards

This is your chance to enjoy significant savings on 25 different Fleetwood Proof Cards. Each proof card is a distinctive commemorative, and most are printed on quality cardstock with an elegantly embossed surface. An original work of art complements the theme of the stamp and was created exclusively for Fleetwood by a leading American artist. A First Day of Issue postmark cancels the stamps.

Selections may vary, but the one I looked through included stamps from popular series such as Black Heritage, Great Americans, and Transportation. Others highlight statehood anniversaries, birds, and much more. Get yours now.

Select Savings! New Markdowns off Catalog Prices Won't Last Long

As you might expect with stamps this old, these classics have one or two minor imperfections. This may include a straight edge, crease, or small tear.
